

IT'S ALL ABOUT THE Happiness Score

This Infographic shows the average happiness score across Countries for the year 2021

Hypothesis

European and North American Countries are happier than African and Asian countries and Wealth is the main indicators of Happiness.

Methods:

I used choropleth to show the distribution of happiness across all the countries as it shows which countries are happier and which are sad. I also used a correlation plot to show top indicators of happiness and a bar graph to show the top happiest countries.

Correlation metrics between happiness and other indicators

Top 10 Happiest Countries in the World

Nine of the happiest countries are in Europe

Conclusion:

The hypothesis holds true, western Europe and north American countries are happier than Asian and African countries. Happiness most strongly correlates with wealth(GDP), health, social support, and freedom
